

WE ARE THE ALL

I am White Eagle.

I am One with All That Is. And in that Oneness, I am whole, I am free.

Rest assured all things come to one who waits — who waits upon the Spirit that lives and moves in each and every Being.

No one can know how VAST that Presence is and yet it manifests within you.

How can this be, you ask? As they say, only God knows.
But deep inside somewhere, you Know. And it is that deep awareness that brings Light to one and all.

Relish the beauty of the earth, the glory of the sun, the shining brilliance of the stars, and remember who you are! We are all One — one with all the magnificent Creation. One with the stars and the earth. One with all that is.

If we were not all One, what would we be? How could we Be?

Being is who we are. Who we all are. And so All Are One in the Great Being that has created us.

Speak not of illness, unkindness, unhappiness. All are but surface illusions that can be swept away with the realization of who we truly are, of the Oneness that connects us all, of the Truth that rallies One and All to our higher selves, to the higher Being within us, to return again and again to that glorious state which is ours always.

Sing to the Lord a new song — a song of Peace, a song of Love, a song of Being, a song of Well-Being! For we are all One in the sight of All That Is and nothing can take that away, nothing can replace that, nothing changes that. For all the turmoil, all the change, all the anxious minds that are about, yet there is one constant peaceful Truth within us all. It speaks within us and if we will listen to our own Truth, we will speak the Truth that all yearn to hear and that all know deep inside their own souls.

So shout out this Truth, this glorious reminder that All is Well. All is well within us, all is well with all of us, for we are All One! There is nothing Nature can disrupt that will disenchant the chain that links us all.

Only God knows One and All, but in that Oneness, We Are The All. Speak softly. Speak well. Speak earnestly all that you know and love. And you too shall see the Light, Know the Light, Be the Light that you have always desired so deep down in your heart of hearts.

Seek to know your True Self. Therein lies your comfort, your wholeness, your well-being, your All-Being — for one and all, we are all One.

Let rapture be your portion. Let Love precede you in all you do. Let the Great Mind within us all forever be your guide.

Be at peace, dear one. I assure you, we are All One and there is nothing that can ever divide us.

Bless you, my child, bless you.

So be it.

Amen.

Aum.
