

A Bridge Too Far?

I am Metatron.

Dear Ones,

You have heard of a bridge too far. Well, I tell you the bridge is right before you. All you need is the courage to cross over. It is a bridge to higher realms. Realms you have not dreamed of before.

Consider the satisfaction you have in making it to the bridge at all. And in reality, you are halfway across already because that 5th dimension that you think is so far out of reach is in fact within your touch.

Do not fear to reach out, to move that one step closer, to dream and to hope that in this new dimension all things are possible. A new world awaits you, a dawn you have never seen before.

Humanity is on the bridge. You are crossing over into a higher manifestation of the world that you know into a world that you do not yet know. And yet you shall. It is there before you. It is there within reach. It is already within you.

The longing that you have felt for so very long is coming to fruition. That yearning for peace, for new possibilities, for higher sensibilities, for clearer consciousness – all that is before you. It is hidden deep within you and you must work to bring it out. You must search for it and find it and let it out. It is there, I assure you. You are on the bridge. You have already almost crossed over it. You can touch it, you can feel it, you can see it. It is happening all around you. No need for remorse.

The New Age is indeed upon you. You are stepping into it this very moment. Release all that is past and look forward to a new day, a new way of Being, a new way of seeing, feeling and knowing. All these are here. They are now before you. They are in you. They are coming out.

Deep within you are reserves that are welling up, reactivating your long-dormant chakras – speeding you to a higher consciousness, to a deeper sense of knowing, to a finer sense of touch, to a feeling of freedom – freedom from the chains that have bound you in the past. See yourself breaking through, releasing all that holds you back.

Now is the time to move forward, bravely, courageously, faithfully, surely. All of it is before you – riches beyond your imagining. Step into the Light. The Light is before you, the Light is in you, the Light is YOU. All you need to do is realize – YOU ARE THE LIGHT!

Enter into a new state of Being. See yourself as fully renewed and refreshed in a totally new state of Being. Walk among the angels that are always within you and with you and before you. Acknowledge who you are – in Truth. Shed the cloak that has hidden you before this time. For now you are free – now you are YOU, wholly you, the real you, the YOU you were always from the beginning.

Embrace the transformation. It is before you. It is within you. Cross the Bridge, knowing full well that All is Well before you and you may safely tread across the bridge into the next dimension.

Do not fear, for we are with you – always, now and forever. Walk bravely forward and meet the real YOU – the whole Being that is inside you and who you truly are. Mastery is before you.

Walk on. Walk on. Walk....on!
You will soon be free.

Bless you, dear ones. Keep the faith and know who you truly are -- blessed among angels.
You are loved forever. May peace be upon you.

Bless you, Dear Ones, bless you.
So be it.
