

Rejoice in the Ascension of Humanity

Yes, there is time—time for everyone to function, to begin anew, to build a new life in a higher dimension. Now is the time.

Love has preceded all. Love has laid the groundwork for all that is to come. For you have spread your Light and Love across the board to humanity and to the Mother Earth and in so doing, you have saved the world.

A New Wave is coming. It is here. It has arrived. Now, all is before you. All is awakening. All is opening to the New Wave—a Wave of immense significance, a Wave of immense opportunity—for humanity and all the Earth to rise up and be made anew on a new platform of integrity, of wholeness, of completeness.

There is no height to which you cannot soar. No lesson that you have not learned. No work yet to be undone, for you have entered a new landscape and all the past has been washed away and you are fresh and new with eyes wide open to the New World that opens before you, the New Dimension that has descended upon you, the New World that is yet before you.

Leave all behind you. Look only forward. For you are in need of creating a new world, a new life, a new dimension of being. It is your time to ascend, to feel the rapture of holiness, to know the completion of all things, to be fully aware of all the dimensions that surround you, to walk in paths that you have not seen before in a land that is fresh and new.

Awaken to what is before you! The horizon spreads out before you. The land is open and even. Your path is clear. Open yourself to the possibilities, to the higher good, to the healing word, to the loving climate that transforms all things into a higher state of Being. Let there be rejoicing. Let all people clasp hands and shout with Joy. It IS Accomplished!

The work you have begun is bursting forth with the fruits of your labor. All sentient beings rejoice in what is Yet to Be, created anew in the landscape of your imaginings, in the freshness of your dreams, in the wholeness of your Being, in the wellness of all things. So you have arrived! We are here for you. We are all One. And in that Oneness, we are all Rejoicing in what you have accomplished!

We are truly with you. We are here for you. We are grateful for you and rejoice in the ascension of humanity. This very day, all is accomplished. Move forward with faith, with joy, with an ever-grateful heart. For the Joy that is in you is in all the Earth and we are all Rejoicing! Yes! It is Good!

Our blessings from higher realms are with you always.
So be it.

Metatron