

The New Earth – It Is Time!

I am White Eagle.

When all is quiet within and the rainbow of peace shatters the darkness around it, then will there be peace. When will it all end, you ask? The murderous intent, the unkind cuts, the cruel streaks of humanity — when will it all come to an end? We say again — when all is quiet within, when the voice you hear within you clearly sounds the golden truth that links all beings in one glorious chain of life.

Weep not for the cruelty of humanity. Lift your heart in hope for the truth is within you. There is an ultimate peace that no war can transcend, no hypocrisy can destroy, no cruelty can overcome. The peace that stems from love within radiates to all the world. You simply need to be calm, to trust your inner voice, to speak your truth, to acknowledge the truth of others and to see forever there is but One Truth — We Are All One.

Your instincts say No that can't be true — we are all so different, and yes, on the surface, that is what appears to be, but in the end, we are all the same — We Are All One – in Love and Hope and Light.

So see through all the differences that simply appear to be but in fact are not. Is the heart of a woman who loves her child any different from the heart of a man who loves his child? No, I tell you, it is not. There is no difference. At the base of it, we are all one in the Love that surrounds us, the Love that is within us, the Love that is our whole, entire Being.

We manifest what we think and feel so it is time to think and feel Peace, to trust the voice within us that speaks Peace with every syllable, that shouts Peace with every yearning, that believes Peace with all its heart.

You cannot be free unless you believe in Peace – the reality of Peace within and Peace without. For Peace is at the heart of the golden rule — “Love one another as I have loved you. Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.” And so it is.

In that one rule you see the truth of all that is — the universality of the human heart, the universality of yearning for peace, the universality of hope, of dreams, of yearning for self-fulfillment, the release of the Love that bubbles up within.

Let there be Peace among you. There is not one of you that is different from any other. How can you not then care for one another and recognize each other as brother and sister? There is no way you can compel love from another but with a sympathetic heart, you can break down barriers. You can reach out to one another. You can touch the deep yearning within another heart and bring it to peace. Why can you not see how simple this truth is?

Simply stand upon a rock and shout your joy, your rapture, your truth. Let your inner voice out. Let all the world hear it. Let all the world know that it is safe and time for the inner voice to speak in all humanity. It is time for all good things to come to fruition. It is a time of turning, a time for Peace to radiate from each human heart to each other human heart — for the soul of humanity to rise, for the Earth to smile, for all people to embrace one another.

Now is the time! No more wandering in the wilderness, in the confusion of chaos. Arise! Emerge from the morass. See beyond the trees. Lift yourself to the mountaintop and understand — We Are All One.

Rise into the heavens above and see this globe for all it is — the beauty of the Sphere that you love so much. Embrace it with your whole heart. Spin light around the world until it penetrates every nook and cranny, every high place, every low place and beneath the seas to the crystal core of the Earth. Let your love resound as the heartbeat of the Earth and may all hearts beat as one. It is well within your grasp. Reach! Reach — up!

We bow to greet you and sing your praises likewise for you are the angels of the Earth, set to set the world on fire with the passion for Peace, with the burning Love that will set the Earth alight. It is the New Earth. It is TIME for it to emerge.

Keep your heart and mind focused on bringing this New Earth into being. For all is set, all is ready, all is NOW! Every moment is yours to empower the Earth and all humanity to transform, to move toward eternal Peace.

Do not be sad. Now is the time to lift up your voice and be heard. Let Joy resound, for the new day comes! It is upon you. Let it come! Let it Be! For it IS!

So be it.

Bless you, dear child, bless you

So be it.

Amen.

Aum.

Message channeled July 8, 2016
©2016 by Karen A. Shaffer (may be freely disseminated)
www.WhiteEagleSpeaks.net