

Mother Earth is awakening

Mother Earth is awakening from her slumber. Now is the day of the great renewal. Now is the day that Mother trembles and shakes and gives birth and brings forth new life.

From the heart-springs within her flows the waters of life, that effervescent, luminous effulgence that is the oasis, that is the heart of hearts, that indwells every human heart and is merged into the one great heart that beats for all.

We see the greening of Mother Earth – the passing away of all forms and things that pollute her or that are disrespectful to her.

Each morning when you get up, speak to Mother Earth. Tell her, “Mother I am placing my foot upon you today. I am walking across you. I am sitting upon you. I am held in your arms. I am your child and together we awaken together the Mother and all her children.”

So all those places where people pay homage – all the sacred places that pinpoint the Earth, that have been blessed by the Great Ones and who are ever blessed by the friends and lovers of God – are now awakening. They are like power generators and they shall heal everyone and everything and make all things whole.

Aum Shanti, Shanti, Amen. Shalom.

Pray for the healing of the Earth, and all the people on the planet, all the creatures on the planet, all the plants and trees, all the wildlife and sea life.

Let White Light encircle the Earth and make the Earth new.

Connect us with the crystalline heart of the Earth that we too may know and see the crystalline beauty within each and every being and attune ourselves to the heartbeat of the universe -- so deeply may we be blessed.

Message channeled by Tejas and Karen August 22, 2010
whiteeaglespeaks.net
©Karen A. Shaffer 2013. May be freely disseminated.