

There are marvels in this Universe

I am White Cloud. I have news for you that you must carry to the farthest ends of the Earth. It is news of joy and peace. I have longed for this moment – for this time to come – for I have much to say to you on the planet Earth.

There are marvels in this Universe beyond the narrow vision of your earthly eyes. It is time that your eyes were opened. It is time for you to see further into the mysteries of life. Time for mankind to step up and into the realm which is his natural inheritance.

Follow your hearts – your inmost inklings of who you truly are. Follow the whisperings of Eternity and you will march to the rhythms of the Universe. Align yourselves with the sentient beings who surround and support you though you do not know it. Though you do not see them yet they are there. And as you align your energies with these beings so, too, you will vibrate at a higher rate and so begin to thin the veil that keeps you so in ignorance of the true glory that is yours.

My brothers and sisters, the veil is thinning. It is beginning to fade so that more of that which is around you is becoming more visible, more accessible to you. The rhythms of this planet are rapidly changing. The frequency of vibration is becoming more rapid. Therefore you must attune your souls to the new frequency. It is vital that you do this.

Humankind as you know it cannot survive the new energies without adapting to these higher frequencies. This is a necessity brought on by the entrance of the planet into this new photon belt. You will feel yourselves floating as if in a sea of mist. And notice how deeply you are immersed in this mist. The mist is all-encompassing. The only way to deal with the mist is to become the mist.

As the mist is composed of droplets of water in a sea of air, so must you expand your atomic structure as if it were in a sea of air. "Atomos and the void" – as Democritus said – and so it is that you must expand your natures to accommodate the oncoming mist – to become like the mist. For if you compact yourself you will be defeated by the mist. Only expansion can accommodate the mist. Expansion of heart and soul as truly you are – as you were created – expansive and free, accommodating all as you are one of the All. So this expansion is necessary for what is to come.

Give your hearts and souls completely to God -- the One from which we all came and which unites us all. And immersed in the power of the All allow yourself to expand, to vibrate at the higher frequencies that are coming, to acclimate to your new environment, to dwell with higher vision and deeper understanding, to see more clearly through the thinning veil. All this is coming, all this is necessary, all this is soon.

I urge you to prepare yourselves, to focus more deeply than ever upon who you are and attune yourselves with the ever changing, ever creating, ever beautiful universe. Unite your energies to face this common force. We are guiding your planet and will keep you from all harm. Follow our guidance, do not be afraid.

All is Love, and Love is All. Understand. We love you and bring peace and love and the power of others who inhabit this planet. Keep watch. Follow our guidance.

Message channeled July 20, 2002

www.WhiteEagleSpeaks.net

© Karen A. Shaffer 2013 (may be freely disseminated)