

All is One in the Embrace of Love

I am White Eagle.

Who is it that Loves you so? Do you really know?

Where is the Source of all that Love, that feeling of warmth, of great-heartedness, of total security wrapped in a blanket of Love? Who is it that Loves you so? Is there a name that you can call? Where is it? Where does it lie? Where can I find it? How can I see it? How can I know it's true?

How many feathers does it take to make a feather bed? Can you really count them all? Can you count the stars that are twinkling in the sky? That's how well you are Loved! By whom, you ask. There is the mystery. By one and by all, I answer. Every twinkle is a gift of Love. Every feather that floats upon the air is a loving embrace. Do you not see?

All the world is made of Love. The universe excels in Love! All bound up with one another! One star twinkles to the next and then the next and the next and they embrace each other. It is like stardust in your eyes. You can't see beyond the cloud of Love that encircles you, so you ask who is it that Loves you and our reply is EVERYONE. Can you not see the twinkle in our eyes when we look upon you? Can you not see us smiling, laughing, loving you and all that is?

Here we are. We surround you with grace and Love. The Eternity of Love knows no end. Twist it what way you will, but the truth is: All is Love. The universe embraces you with Love. The universe has made you of Love. You are Love!

In your heart of hearts, you are Love! And so it is with every thing that is. Every sentient being dwells in the heart of Love. There is one thing that connects you all – the substratum of Love. It underlies all things. It is in all things. It is what has created all things. Call it what you will, it is the same. It has no end. It dwells among you. It dwells in you. It is YOU. Do you not understand? All is Love and All is One in the Embrace of Love. We are All One.

Love does not forget you. Love is YOU. Remember, dear ones, remember. Remember who you are and fear no more, for Love surrounds you. The cushion of Love protects you from all harm. There is nothing but Love. Therefore, dear hearts, dwell only in this thought, in this knowing, in this wisdom, in this understanding.

We are All One in Love. Now and Forever. There is no separation. There is no delineation. There is only Love. Therefore speak Love to one and all. Each heart expands with the touch of Love. Therefore keep on touching heart by heart with all the Love you can bestow and unify all life in this glorious bond of Love. For we are All One and it is time for you to remember. Love exceeds all expectations, all the heart's desires. Love fulfills the dream – the dream is Love.

Walk among us for awhile. Stay awhile and remember who you are in the Love that made you and the Love that is you and is in one and all.

Bless you, my child, bless you. All is well. Bless you.

So be it. Amen. Aum.

I am White Eagle. I Love you.
