

Love is the motivating force

I am White Eagle.

Love is the motivating force behind all things. It is the laughter that rings in your ears, the joy that springs out of your heart, the bliss of higher consciousness.

Love moves all things.

It motivates the helping hand – the hand extended to all people without distinction, knowing that we are all One. Love creates us anew each moment of our lives. It brings us a gift – a gift of surprise, as if opening an envelope for the first time, and the joy it contains refreshes us anew, each moment that we offer it an opening into the envelope of our lives.

It is so beautiful! Can you not see? Its radiant splendor lights up the universe for it is the spark of light that ignites us all in the passion for life.

Love is the motivating force. It is the mover of all things. It unites us all in one big bowl of mercy, of compassion for one another. Think hard on this and let your consciousness open to the reality of the Love that sustains us all. You can't THINK it without feeling it and in the feeling is the truth of its joy, the opening for its bliss, the envelope of happiness that resides within each heart. Unseal its precious content and make anew its acquaintance for it will lavish you with praise and thanksgiving and overwhelm you with Love Divine.

Walk in the dewy mist of Cosmic Love and see that All is contained within you and you are contained within All. For every atom of your being has been absorbed in that mystic All, seeded with Love, overwhelmed with happiness, with joy sublime, with the Truth unveiled of the Oneness in all things. For nothing can separate us from the love of God and the love within us SHINES in that perfect glory that spangles the heavens with holy light.

You are the Light of the World, motivated by the Love of the Universe – the Love that pervades the Universe and all that is. Light your world with Love and see beyond the stars to the priceless treasure within you.

Open to worlds unforeseen. Open to the LIFE of Love and sing with everlasting joy for this is your mission – to let the Earth sing with the Love with which it was born and bring back to yourselves that everlasting joy and glory that is yours alone to share with all that is and all that ever will be.

Move to the rhythm of love within you and speak the truth from your heart of hearts that all may see the Love that keeps you, the Love that moves you, the Love that IS you – the Love that unites us all.

May peace and peace and peace be everywhere and always with you, my dear child. Bless you. So be it.
